Mr. Edgar Rubey Harlan
3112 University Avenue
Des Moines, Iowa

Dear Mr. Harlan:

Some five or six years ago I had some correspondence with you regarding the genealogy of the Rubey family. At that time, while I was serving as Dean of Whitman College, Walla Walla, Washington, I discovered your name in "Who's Who" with sufficient additional information to establish beyond question that we are related. For the last four years I have been with the George Banta Publishing Co. The essential facts about my life can likewise be found in "Who's Who."

Pressure of other interests has forced me to neglect the matter of family history, though from time to time as opportunity offered I picked up little scraps of information and incorporated them into the tentative Table of the Rubey Family, a copy of which I am enclosing. On the fifth page you will find the items you gave me regarding the family of your grandfather, Joseph Willis Rubey.

Three weeks ago I had an appointment that took me to Florida, and I found it possible to stop off between trains at Cynthiana, Kentucky. In the office of the County Judge I found a very intelligent lady who is interested in genealogy, particularly of the early families of that section. She gave generously of her time and together we examined such of the records of the family as we could locate in the time at our disposal. We found little, but it proved interesting as verifying data that I already had. In the Dead Book I saw the record of the purchase of 100 acres of land on Indian Creek in 1808 and of its sale in 1815 by Joseph Rubey (my great great grandfather, your great grandfather) and his wife Ann (Hunter) Rubey. The signatures of both (spelled "Rubey", by the way) are attached to the documents. We found the marriage licenses for five of the children of Joseph and Ann: John, the eldest, my great grandfather to Charlotte Myers, daughter of Solomon Myers, Dec. 31, 1816; Mary (Polly) to Henry Wingate, Feb. 7, 1815; Nancy to James Boyd, Apr. 2, 1817; Ambrose to Rosannah Lareh, March 10, 1830; James to Martha Myers, sister of Charlotte Myers, Oct. 22, 1830. This last license is signed by Joseph Rubey and Solomon Myers, both of them my great great grandfathers. Descendants of Colomon Myers still live in the neighborhood where the two families then lived. There is the record of suit brought against Joseph Robey and another man on a note whose face was not cash, but "40 sound scantlons and 4 good posts." There is no judgment entered in the suit, so we shall never know whether our ancestor defaulted or not!

Last summer I spent a week visiting relatives at Richmond and Lynn, Indiana, and one day I drove to Spartansburg and Bethel. I met at Spartansburg two old ladies, sisters, widows of brothers, namely James and Ambrose Rubey, (nos. 139 and 141, page 7 of the Table). In the cemeteries at Spartansburg and especially Bethel I found many records of the family, notably the graves of my great grandparents, John and Charlotte Ruby (his name spelled Ruby and hers Rubey, indicating, since he undoubtedly prepared her epitaph, that in life he spelled the name Rubey). I found the tombstone of your grandmother, "Ann, wife of J. W. Ruby, died May 10, 1873, aged 64 years," but not your grandfather's. I found the grave of "Elmira S., daughter of J. W. and Ann Rubey, died Oct. 1, 1851, aged 4 years"; should not this name be added to the list of your mother's family which you sent me?

Next summer I hope to spend more time in the neighborhood, and if I can arrange it, I want to spend some time discussing the relationships with Elizabeth Rubey, daughter of the late Finley Rubey, who is said to have collected a good deal of information about the family in the earlier periods, some of it in the pre-Kentucky era. There are several other members of the family at Union City whom I shall try to interview.

I am still interested in the frequent interrelations of the Harlans and Fenders with the Rubays. I have repeatedly tried to get a copy of the Alpheus Harlan Genealogy of the Harlan Family, but have never succeeded. I am venturing to ask whether you could loan me a copy. I would undertake to return it promptly and in good order as soon as I transferred from it the numerous Rubays who are said to be in it.

I frequently run across the name in my editorial work. Not long ago I noted the name "Craig Rubey," if I recall correctly, as attached to Drake University. Do you know he is related? In Washington, in the U.S. Geological Survey my son (No. 38) has become acquainted with William W. Rubey (no. 126), and he has contributed most of the information I have included concerning his grandfather's family.

TABLE OF THE RUBEY FAMILY

1. I. Joseph Rubey. Moved from Virginia to Kentucky either with the George Rogers Clark Expedition or in the immigration immediately following it. Married Ann Hunter. Settled near Cynthiana; purchased a farm of 100 acres on Indian Creek from Richard Young (Deed Book 2, p. 288, Harrison County records) and sold it to Andrew Houchell in 1815 (Deed Book 4, p. 402). Their tombstones (at Knightstown, Indiana?) record that "Joseph Rubey died Sept. 11, 1829, aged 60 years"; and that "Ann, wife of Joseph Ruby, died Feb. 10, 1851, aged 70 years, 3 months, and 6 days." They had six sons and four daughters, most of whom settled in Wayne and Randolph Counties, Indiana.
2. II. John Rubey. Born (Virginia or Kentucky?) April 3, 1793, died Union City, Indiana, Jan. 31, 1873. Served in the War of 1812 in Capt. John D. Thomas's 10th Reg. Ky. militia under Gen. William Henry Harrison. Honorably discharged April 10, 1813. Married, Dec. 31, 1816, Charlotte Myers, daughter of Solomon Myers, who died at Cynthiana Aug. 1833. (Marriage license of John and Charlotte in file Harrison Co. records). He moved to Wayne County, Indiana, between 1820 and 1830 and settled on a farm one mile north of Bethel. The house he built is still standing. At the age of 71 he married Eleanor Smith, widow of Thomas Wiley; she survived him.
